The families of Ralph Pinney and Phyllis Quinlan camped overnight in the area and attended the pot-luck on Saturday.

City Cleaner By Forty Truck Loads

Saturday's free rubbish pickup service, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, was by all odds a huge success, despite evidence of frayed tempers on the part of Sierra Madreans who had to wait an hour or more in line to dump their trash.

A total of 271 people gathered their trash in trailers and trucks and hauled it to the City Water Grounds from where it was transported via 40 truck loads to dumping grounds.

Said City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington:

"The day was a success, all right, but I'm afraid to find out how much it cost the city."

Robert H. Green, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said:

"We wish to thank the citizens of Sierra Madre for their cooperation in Saturday's Clean-Up Drive."

"We also appreciate the cooperation of the City Council and the city administrator. The participation was far beyond our expectations."

He pointed out that residents who still have large quantities of trash to dispose of may call the City Refuse Service for private pickups. (See Around the Square, on Editorial Page.)

Club OKs 'City of Flowers'

Sierra Madre may in reality become known as the "City of Flowers" if the project planned by the local Garden Club is fulfilled.

The Garden Club, under the direction of Leland Marsh, has adopted the "City of Flowers" recommendation in the report released April 29 on ways to enhance Sierra Madre's beauty and reputation as an ideal place to live.

Other organizations which are expected to adopt special projects are the Civic Club, Woman's Club, Coordinating Council, Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club.

THE GARDEN CLUB already has prepared a certificate which will entitle Sierra Madreans to special discounts when purchasing at local nurseries.

The certificate, when presented to any local nursery, will entitle a householder to a discount on the purchase of flowers and shrubs and for professional advice on what, how and when to plant. Further details will be announced later.

The Civic Club is working with the Chamber of Commerce to promote annually the Wistaria Festival, and the latter organization also is exploring the possibility of holding an annual art fair.

MRS. CHARLES TYE, president of the Woman's Club, plans to discuss several aspects of the report with club members.

Mrs. Betty Ames, president of the Coordinating Council, reported that her group plans to adopt and handle details of the Good Neighbor Dinner, held for the first time last year.

The Kiwanis Club will erect a portal at the entrance of Mt. Wilson Trail and have information available in a box at the beginning of the trail on hiking safety rules.

Install Officers Of Coordinating Council June 3

New officers of the Sierra Madre Coordinating Council will be installed June 3 at a dinner meeting sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

The dinner will start at 7:30 p.m. in the Woman's Clubhouse.

New Coordinating Council officers are Mrs. Betty Ames, president; Col. Watter D. Thurber, vice president; Mrs. Frank Barbour, recording secretary; Mrs. Carl Cheadle, corresponding secretary, and Frank Parks, treasurer.

Lot Split Fight May Force Change in Law

Council Picks New Water Supervisor

John Buzzini, 41, of Suisun, Calif., was appointed water superintendent by the City Council Tuesday night at a salary of $525 a month. He will take over July 1.

Buzzini, a water superintendent in Suisun for the past six years, was chosen from among 30 applicants.

John Buzzini

eight of whom were interviewed by the City Council.

His appointment led to an outburst by Mrs. Estelle Drobeck, 612 N. Auburn, who demanded to know why a local man was not given the job. She was referring to Carl Rees, pumping plant operator who had applied for the job.

Mrs. Drobeck's protests continued for several minutes before Councilman Milton Emerson, obviously irked, said:

"We did the best possible job we could for the city. We think we selected the best applicant. Not only has Mr. Buzzini had experience as a water superintendent, he also has knowledge in the administrative and budget fields."

When Mrs. Drobeck interrupted, Emerson retorted: "Will you please let me finish?"

It was also pointed out that the Council considered the application of Rees carefully, and that Council members think he is a highly competent, loyal Water Department employee, but does not have the necessary experience to act as Water Superintendent.

The debate continued until Councilman Lorraine W. Lisle noted that the Council had done the best it could, the hour was 11:30 p.m., and that there were still several items on the agenda to complete.

Memorial Day Rites to Honor Our War Dead

Solemn Memorial Day services will be conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Sierra Madre Cemetery at 10:30 a.m. Friday.

Officers and members of the VFW will form at the cemetery to pay tribute to the servicemen who died in defense of the United States. There will be no parade this year.

Father Walsh from St. Rita's Church will deliver a short address. (See Editorial Page)

A mysterious object, bright and shaped like a star, floated over Sierra Madre and other Valley cities shortly before dawn Monday.

The object prompted several dozen early risers to call police and, in turn, prompted the Sierra Madre police to take some photographs.

Patrolman Keith Bassett tried several times to take a picture with a Polaroid camera, but the object is either more mysterious than anyone thinks or Officer Bassett is unskilled in the use of the Polaroid.

"I CAN'T understand it," said Bassett. "Nothing showed up on the film."

Other Sierra Madre policemen who saw the object are Patrolmen George Burnell and George Reed.

The five-pointed object appeared to be moving east at 4,000 to 5,000 feet. The Sheriff's Department alerted all its radio cars in the area to watch for it.

It was first spotted about 4:30 a.m. above Foothill Blvd. in Monrovia by Police Car Sgt. Earl Wilson and Officer Joseph Curtis of the Monrovia Police Department.

THEY FOLLOWED the object as it moved slowly over Monrovia, hovered over Bradbury Estates, then swung over Azusa, Glendora and Sierra Madre.

The object gradually disappeared as the sun rose in the sky and the object was last seen at 5:55.

Its appearance brought the usual rash of explanations, from a Martian space ship to a weather balloon.

Legality of Zoning Item Is Questioned

A legal technicality which may lead to a change in relationship between the City Council and Planning Commission was unearthed at the Council meeting Tuesday night.

It appears, as the result of a protest by Frank Simon, 741 E. Grandview, that at least one Sierra Madre ordinance is unconstitutional.

The question is whether an elective body, such as the City Council, can delegate final authority to an appointive group, in this case the Planning Commission.

PRESENTLY, the Planning Commission's decision on lot splits is final and cannot be appealed to the City Council or to anyone else, except the courts. City Attorney Charles Martin was instructed to study the question and report at the next meeting.

The hassle developed when Simon protested a lot split granted by the Planning Commission to Mrs. Velma Cheroske, 747 E. Grandview. Mrs. Cheroske has already started dividing her one large lot into three smaller ones. She plans to build two houses on the lots, one which would sell for approximately $22,500, the other for $16,500.

Mrs. Cheroske also owns a home on the rear of the lot. Since the Cheroskes complied with all provisions of the Zoning Ordinance and, in fact, retained the services of an expert appraiser, the Planning Commission granted the lot split.

The Council Tuesday night upheld the Commission, after Richard Cheroske agreed to present his case before the Council, although legally he did not have to do so.

SIMON, irked because he had not been notified of the Planning Commission hearing on the matter, said: "What does a taxpayer have to do to protect his property in Sierra Madre?"

Cheroske argued that the plan, as suggested by his appraiser, would add not only to his own property value but to that of his neighbors, including Simon.

IN OTHER action, the Council:

1. Upheld the Planning Commission's resolution increasing the minimum easement width for 12 to 16 feet.

2. Voted to discontinue building inspection service from Los Angeles County and authorized City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington to advertise for a local inspector.

Bevington reported that city issued 258 permits in the past five months, collected $2,349.90, and paid the county building inspector $2,308.24.

PTA Installs New Officers For 1958-59

Sierra Madre PTA officers for 1958-1959 were installed at the regular May meeting by Mrs. Martha Coutant, retiring Sierra Madre School Board member.

Serving with Mr. and Mrs. William Waite, co-presidents for the coming PTA year, are Mr. and Mrs. James Dunagan, first vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Kayne Hartwell, second vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stowell, third vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Riggins, fourth vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moyer, fifth vice president; Gordon MacDonald, sixth vice president.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Donowski, recording secretary; Mr. and Mrs. George Fleming, corresponding secretary; Mr. and Mrs. James Abernethy, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Fretz, parliamentarian; Mrs. Florence Nielson, historian; and Cecil Hicks, auditor.

In response to a request by Mrs. Gifford Eastwood, local Hollywood Bowl Association member, the PTA voted to co-sponsor a busto-Hollywood Bowl night during the summer Bowl season.

Sierra Madre PTA Mothersingers, Mrs. C. C. Ward, Jr., Mrs. Sewall Clark, Mrs. Morley Weir, Mrs. Morgan Hamers, Mrs. Lowell Jackson, Mrs. Norman Hellmann, Mrs. Lyle Seaman, Mrs. MacCasen, and Mrs. George Lindsay, made their first public appearance since they were organized early in the year.

125 Attend Opening Babe Ruth Game

Last Monday's opening game in the local Babe Ruth League was, on the whole, a well played and interesting contest thoroughly enjoyed by the 125 people who attended.

According to the statistics the "Chevron" Giants should have defeated the "Kiwanis" Cardinals by much more than one run since they got 11 hits to the Cards' one.

The Giants scored twice their first time up on singles by Sherk, R. Dahlgren and Simon, but left many men on base until the sixth inning when they were again able to bunch a single by Rickard, another by Simon, and Dave Foxton's double, to score two more runs. The Cardinals scored all their runs in the third inning as the Giants made three consecutive errors and Dahlgren walked three Cardinal hitters.

Cardinals 3 1 3 4

THE 1,300 SILVER DOLLARS stacked on "Gambler" Ed Mitchell's table ain't for free; it just seems that way. Everybody who attends the annual Community Breakfast June 14 can get one of these dollars for only 89 cents, and later cash it in for $1.50 in merchandise at local stores up until closing time June 18. "That's a real bargain, partner," is what Janice Zepeda is telling her boss who really, of course, is E. R. Mitchell, manager of the First Western Bank and Trust Co., the institution that is supplying the dollars to the Kiwanis Club, sponsor of the event. (News Photo.)

The taxpayers, it seems, are getting a break in plans to expand and renovate the Pasadena public school system. Or, at least, the raising of the needed revenue will be relatively painless.

This, of course, is in reference to Propositions Q and R which voters are asked to approve June 3. The former, if approved, will provide $8,000,000 for Pasadena high schools; the latter, $5,000,000 to Pasadena City College.

PROPOSITION Q adds $1540 per $100 of assessed valuation to each home-owner's tax bill; but the tax ceiling will not have to be raised.

Proposition R will not add a cent to anyone's tax bill. These bonds will be retired by payments from out-of-district students.

It seems, therefore, that we will be getting vitally needed school facilities at little cost in increased taxes, a happy state of affairs almost unique in the annals of school expansion.

Sierra Madreans and residents of Hastings Ranch will be exceptionally blessed if the bond issues pass because they will be able to send their high school children to a new building in Victory Park, almost within walking distance of home.

That additional school facilities are needed there can be little question. If the bond issues fail to pass this year, our already over-crowded classrooms will be more jammed still next year.

Here is what the money will be used for.

PROPOSITION Q will provide $2,646,500 to six junior high schools for new construction, equipment, remodeling and rehabilitation.

Muir Senior High will get $1,668,200 to complete its conversion from a four-year to a three-year school.

A total of $3,595,260 will be used to complete and equip Pasadena High School in Victory Park. Funds now available (from the 1954 bond issue) will buy little more than empty classrooms, roofed and walled.

PROPOSITION R will provide $165,000 for rewiring old junior college buildings.

$763,100 to build and equip a new math-science building.

$770,000 for an engineering and technology building.

$955,000 for a new women's gym.

$903,800 to build and equip a new building to be shared by the business, home economics and life science classes.

$975,000 to build a student center, including the cafeterias necessary to accommodate expanding enrollments.

Day of the Dead

(The following essay, a winner in the annual American Legion Auxiliary contest, was written by Janet White, Eighth Grade student at St. Rita's School. It is about Memorial Day and reveals amazingly mature thoughts for one so young as Miss White.)

Memorial Day, set aside for the commemoration of those who died in battle, had its origin in the Southern States after the Civil War. The practice grew until in 1868 it was declared a holiday by Gen. John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

AT FIRST it was devoted to the remembrance of those who died in battle during the Civil War, but it gradually enveloped the Spanish-American and World War casualties. Also known as Decoration Day, it is celebrated in most states on May 30, but some Southern states observe it on April 26.

On Memorial Day we visit the graves of our beloved dead in order to pay them homage. We bring fragrant flowers to decorate their graves, proud that we have the opportunity of doing so.

As we decorate the graves of the brave soldiers, we think of others, who were fortunate enough to escape with their lives. Or perhaps one who has never returned, who has been buried on a lonely hillside, forgotten through the years. Let us forget them we have erected a monument for them in Washington, D.C.—the Grave of the Unknown Soldier.

WHILE Memorial Day is in honor of those who died defending their country, we must recall that those against whom we battled died also. We cannot remain bitter, for they fought for what they believed in, and they also died.

Memorial Day is a day on which we feel mingled emotions. We hope will all our hearts that there will never be need for another day such as this—a day of the dead.

Letters to the Editor

SNOWED OUT
Dear Editor:
Of possible interest to middle-aged friskies is this item from the canyon which heralds the opening of the Junkie League which is a sort of adult Junior League limiting itself to old tennis balls and driftwood, the latter, of course, being employed as a bat.
Opening game, played at the lower parking lot, was won by the Pushers who defeated the Users 3 to 2 in spite of the absence of their fielder who had a court appointment that day.
The only other game, scheduled between the mainliners and the Pots, which was to be played at the high level parking lot, was snowed out.

EL BURRO SPEAKS
Dear Sir:
We extend a warm invitation to the city fathers to come up and take a good look at Fairview Ave. It is a lulu!
Note to Mr. Bevington: Was it right for you to ask for extra holiday pay and increases to some city employees when a large number of taxpayers have a devil of a time paying the unreasonably high taxes?
EL BURRO,
Humble, patient and abused.

AROUND the SQUARE

By Tommy-Ann Miller

Sierra Madreans brought their mole hills to make a mountain of trash—and take advantage of Saturday's free rubbish haul during the Chamber of Commerce's inspired "Help Beautify S.M." campaign.

In the final hour (with the count already well past 250) a deluge of dumpers in cars, jeeps and pick-up trucks (many pulling trailers), flocked to the water grounds in a last-ditch effort to ditch white elephant eyesores.

The leafy remains of a city-wide pruning orgy bulged from the waiting vehicles: castor bean branches, palm fronds, fresh vine clippings (festooned with snails), etc., mixed in with musty mattresses, dilapidated garden furniture and antique steamer trunks.

Roped to the side of one trailer, a home-made robot shed a few electronic tears, but held its cast iron body proudly erect as it joggled to its doom up the hot, dusty road.

"SIAMESE CAT," a water color painting by Alan Wood, was chosen to hang in the highly competitive annual L.A. County Art Show, currently at the Museum.

DAVID AND MARGARET ("Peter") Patten and four children were visiting Sunday and filling friends in on their life since leaving town. Seems that while stationed with the Air Corps in South Dakota, David, a captain, was badly hurt in an air crash and subsequently resigned his commission. Last year, the Pattens moved to West Covina and went into the women's clothing business. Peter, daughter of Lorene Adwell, grew up and went to school here.

SMOKE FROM the Hancock holocaust shrouded the city last Friday morning, as eerie sunlight filtered through the oily overcast giving an unreal touch to everyday surroundings.

LATIN LIFE. John Woehler Jr. files to Maricao, Venezuela, Saturday as a new employee of the Superior Oil Co. He'll be working in public relations (human section, he says) anywhere from two to five years—with annual vacations provided to the U.S.

John, son of the John L. Woehlers (John Sr. is a well-known former local dentist), has lived here all his life. He graduated from Stanford in 1955, where he majored in Hispanic American studies and foreign trade, and he got his M.A. in 1956. At Stanford, John was literary editor of the campus humor magazine and newspaper, and also wrote and sold science fiction stories. A National Guard Reservist, he just completed six months' active duty.

COMFORT CRITIC. One civic-minded critic thinks that if the Friends of the Library are really friendly, they will make a motion to keep the comfort stations open during reading hours.

MEMORIAL WINDOW. An effective and memory-stirring display in Perry's Stationery window—pictures of Sierra Madre servicemen on the Honor Roll. The Memorial Day tribute to men now dead, or killed in various wars, was arranged by the American Legion Auxiliary headed by Barbara Heasley.

"I'M REALLY flabbergasted at the way the town has grown and changed in seven years!" said Harry "Bus" Lovejoy, another ex-Sierra Madrean (since childhood) here for the weekend with his parents, George and Helen Lovejoy.

Bus, a captain in the Marine Reserve, flew out for the annual Marine Corps Military Conference at San Diego. Since 1951, he's been living with his wife, Shirley (and two sons), in Upper Montclair, N.J. They recently bought a 125-year-old farmhouse which they're busy restoring.

An accident marred the Lovejoy clan reunion, however—when head of the family, George Lovejoy, had his arm severely lacerated by their Boxer dog during a rough-house session—necessitating a rush trip to the emergency hospital for stitches.

JAUNTY wee car wedged in between two mammoth Detroit models parked in Kersting Square, bore the sign "Don't squash me—I eat insects!"

A SPRING patio-building project nearly went on the rocks when the brakes on a borrowed pick-up failed as the husband was homeward bound with many tons of gravel.

Fortunately, it was a gentle brake failing, with no disastrous results except that repairs delayed the husband's return by more than two hours and his wife, poised with the cement mixer, was feeling anything but gentle by the time the wayward truck arrived.

Spadaro, the old Capri fisherman, in youth used also to climb the Faraglioni (literally, "lighthouses") the three steep giant rocks, over 100 feet high off the south-east tip of the island, to catch the rare blue lizard for collectors and museums.

WHEN HE grew older he was for years photographed by thousands of amateurs and professionals, painted by hundreds of artists. His tall, spare figure and classic features with long white beard were set off by the 19th Century Capri costume of long red knitted tunic with tassels, 10-inch broad crimson woven belt, blue canvas jacket and off-white trousers, with Capri cord-soled sandals.

In his later 70's, when I first saw Spadaro, he had retired from all activity more strenuous than climbing to the Piazza, walking about or sitting on the low wall, smoking his long native tobacco pipe, while posing patiently, and completely relaxed, for a new painter or camera-conscious tourists, for the set price of such-and-such liras. For this was now his living.

Demos Shouldn't Underestimate Nixon

By Robert G. Spivack

THE DEMOCRATS AND RICHARD NIXON—If I were Paul Butler, the Democratic national chairman, I would be awfully worried these days. Recession, troubles in the Middle East, chaos in France—all these are things which normally should give encouragement to the political "outs" and cause anxiety for the "ins."

But if I were Butler I wouldn't count very much on these world difficulties having much political advantage in the long pull. Right now, to me at least, it looks as if the Democrats might win the Congress in '58 and lose the nation in '60.

And if they do I venture to predict it will be because they have underestimated a capable young politician named Richard M. Nixon.

It's a good legitimate political by-play to call Nixon the "all-American Boy." And it's quite proper to poke fun at him with suggestions broadcast by the Democratic National Committee that his upcoming autobiography should be entitled "From Here to Maturity."

NIXON SPOKE the other

Colvin, and Robert Smallman, a resident of Hastings Ranch, received new promotions last week by the Consolidated Engineering Corps. of Pasadena.

Mrs. Edward Lawlor of Oakland is spending two weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Oliver, 246 S. Sunnyside.

day to members of the National Press Club. It was their first opportunity to see him in person since the stinging-and-spitting indignities he suffered in some parts of Latin America. It was also for many newspapermen the first chance to see Nixon in action as a public speaker before probably the toughest, most critical audience any politician could face.

Nixon has avoided the give-and-take of press conferences. He has even refused to speak before the NPC although there has been an invitation on his desk for over two years.

This was a calculated refusal. It gives you some idea, though, of why Nixon has gone so far in politics. There is hardly an official in Washington who wouldn't give his right arm to be invited to address the NPC. But not Nixon. He wasn't in any hurry. He picked the time he wanted and, of course, was able to choose his own topic.

It was no surprise that he chose to speak about our troubles in Latin America.

THERE HAS been fairly wide press coverage on what he said, so there is no need to repeat it here. Suffice it to say he pulled the rug from under his critics. First, he admitted that our difficulties below the Equator are more deep-rooted than most Americans suspect. That was a sop to the liberals. Second, he acknowledged that he had been warned not to make the sort of trip he made. But he refused to bow to the "bully boys" who would make it impossible for any American official to travel abroad merely by uttering threats. That pleased the ordinary citizen's pride in his government.

While the Nixon talk was in rather general terms, there was not much that he said with which anyone could disagree. Poverty and human misery were at the bottom of most of the troubles; the people hated their dictators who were robbing the country and they hated us for supporting the dictators.

There are many Democrats who will say, "What's new about any of this? It's what we have been telling you all along."

And they will be right.

HOW NIXON OPERATES—

What Nixon is doing, though, is known as stealing their thunder. And that's where the Democrats' difficulties begin. How are they going to lambast Nixon as a presidential candidate if he echoes their ideas and advocates the things they advocate?

Tom Dewey used to do the same thing in New York and there are many indications that Nixon has studied the Dewey technique with great care. Every time the Democrats came up with a good idea Dewey would take it away from them. At the same time he stole their idea he would accuse them of being "scavengers in human misery." So he had it both ways.

Nixon may not be a Tom Dewey, although there are some who insist the resemblance in method between the two men is quite marked. But one thing is certain: If the Democrats expect to beat Nixon they better not take it for granted that the American public still regards him as "Slippery Dick."

The time for the Democrats to begin an "agonizing reappraisal" of the man they've got to beat in 1960 is right now.

Farming Among Nation's Bright Spots

By Edgar W. Hiestand
Rep., 21st District

The farm picture is certainly gratifying, especially to those of us who have "stuck by" Secretary Benson and the Administration's farm program.

Agriculture is one of the brightest of many bright spots in the economy of the nation today. It's almost funny, how the "gloom and doom" advocates, who have been howling about the farm situation, are now strangely silent.

If their claims that the nation's economic well being depends on agriculture, are correct, our problems are over. Agriculture leads every other segment of our economy in recent increases. Farm income is up nearly $2 billion over the first quarter of last year.

The truth of the matter is, no particular phase of our economy is more important than the others. We are dependent on each other. Industry, agriculture, small business, white collar, blue collar; we're all in this thing together. If the history of our nation teaches anything, it is that you can't favor one group over another and get away with it, economically.

COMMUNIST INSPIRED demonstrations against America in several parts of the world should not be allowed to overshadow the diplomatic victory we scored in the dramatic 10-1 vote on our proposed Arctic Inspection. Russia again showed its true colors by vetoing the plan. Here again, critics of the Administration have been silenced.

The agitation for a "summit" conference, under any conditions, is a disturbing factor. It's all in how you arrange them, but actions are inviolate. Soviet actions have documented the soundness of United States policy.

LESS UNEMPLOYMENT: Insured unemployment decreased by 66,900 during the week ending April 26, the latest for which figures are available. This is the second week in a row the number of insured unemployed declined. The number of new claims for unemployment benefits filed during the week of April 26 was the lowest for any week in 1958.

Declines in unemployment were reported in 41 states with the largest decreases in California, Tennessee, New York and Illinois.

The trend indicated above should continue through May, but be prepared for more unemployment, in relation to the total labor force, in the latter part of June. Some 900,000 high school and college graduates will enter the labor market then and they can't be absorbed overnight.

FEWER STRIKES started during the first three months of 1958 than of any first quarter of any post war year. Figures for the entire United States show that during January, February and March, only 550 strikes started which involved six or more employees and lasted a full day, or shift or longer.

OVERHEARD—One small boy to another—"I don't think it's good to keep a piggy bank, it makes bank robbers out of parents."

... Fire Flames ...

By Chief James Heasley

A fire call last Friday evening (just before the firemen gathered at the station for the semi-monthly drill) could have resulted in a very destructive blaze had it not been for the alert appliance of water from a garden hose by a neighbor boy.

The boy discovered the fire when he followed his nose. The firemen also thank the adult who appeared on the scene and aided the boy. Early arrival of the firemen completed the job and made certain that the fire was entirely extinguished.

We are grateful to the firemen who showed up early, at the station before drill time and who were immediately off with the wagons when the address was given.

Residents of the house were away when the fire started. Conditions found were the proper sort to encourage fire. Fortunately the simmering of a sidewall was discovered before a large fire broke out.

This fire gives firemen more and more assurance that home inspection for fire hazards is of great value. No home should possess materials piled in corners to increase heat when fire reaches, and yet if housekeepers and home owners fail to abide by suggestions of this column and firemen, we can expect at some time, sooner or later, to have that major conflagration we so dread.

ENOUGH OF the crew attended the drill last week to unload and test the hose on truck four. A job that calls for a lot of real hard work was accomplished in good time and well done. We want to thank the Willis family of 1 W. Carter for permission to use the private road for this necessary duty.

DALE WIENS and Hal Jordan, partners in the Gem Plumbing Nnc., were elected as members to the auxiliary of the Fire Department. Hal has already been initiated in more ways than one. Against the advice of the chief, Hal decided to gather 'round the table with the boys. He now says the chief is sometimes right.

FOR THE Love of Pete, cleanup now. The dry weather here.

Local Civic Club Wins High Achievement Award

Having won the local Vergado district award for outstanding community achievement, Sierra Madre Civic Club went on to win, over all clubs in California having a membership of less than 100, the Josephine G. Seaman Civic Award at a recent convention of California Federation of Women's Clubs in San Francisco.

The Josephine G. Seaman Civic Award was established at the Del Monte convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs in May, 1935. This award is given to six of the 176 clubs in the state, district winners being graded by the size of their membership, and the winners are then entered in the state-wide competition.

A partial list includes operation of Toy Loan; equipping the nursery at the Sierra Madre Hospital; sponsoring of the city-wide Halloween Party; contributing the largest amount to a CFWC scholarship fund by a small club; spearheading the building and entering of a float in the Rose Parade; conducting the local March of Dimes drive; and donating money to make possible the completion of the Little League baseball diamond and purchase uniforms for the Yankee team.

Contributions were also made to the local Blue Birds, Mariners, Family Service, Meals for Millions and Christmas Gifts for Needy Families.

Convert Your Vitamin Jars Into Pretty, Practical Spice Holders

Would you like to add spice to your life? The art of cooking with spices has caught the imagination of the nation's housewives and there's a good reason for it: spice cookery is the easiest way to turn your everyday dishes into mealtime magic.

The spice experts report that there are 50 different spices and herbs available in America's food stores and supermarkets. And with just one-half that number, you can create 17 million flavor combinations.

All you need to join the spice bandwagon is a good sampling of tested spice recipes and a collection of some basic spices. Most spice recipes are simple and easy to follow. With just a bit of extra effort, your cooking experiments can produce results worthy of the most discriminating French chef.

A well-known manufacturer of pharmaceuticals—The Upjohn Company—has just come up with a spice notion that is as sensible and practical as sound nutrition. The starting point is the attractive, old-fashioned apothecary jar in which Upjohn packages its Unicap vitamins. Add a distinctive set of sixteen attractive spice labels, mix well with a brand new booklet of 150 spice recipes—and you're all set to go!

The black-and-white spice labels are specially designed to fit the Unicap jar, which will provide you with a perfect spice container after your family has used up the vitamins.

Your local pharmacist can tell you how to get the set of spice labels and the recipe booklet entitled "How To Use Spices" Happy Spice cooking!

Hangman's Noose Is At Berry Farm

Most of the western adventure programs shooting across the TV screen these days take great pains to be as accurate as possible, but there is one symbol of frontier life they seldom, if ever, show—the hangman's noose.

The producers probably fear that viewers might jump out of their easy chairs if a "necktie party" went on right in their living rooms! But an honest-to-gosh hangman's tree can be seen by Southern Californians almost in their own backyard—at Knott's Berry Farm and Ghost Town.

This replica of the Old West is complete and accurate, down to a sturdy tree with a convenient branch, a length of strong rope and even a dummy which can be trotted out for special occasions to dangle from the fatal noose in most convincing fashion.

The theory is that millions of people come to Ghost Town to see just what an early day California mining camp looked like, so they can view the whole works, accurate even to the most common method of execution under pioneer law.

However, Walter and Cordelia Knott, who founded the famous place and still walk its streets almost every day, say that the crowds are just curious, or amused, about hangman's tree—the one-dreaded symbol of the Old West has no terror now.

A HOLLYWOOD producer recently called curator Ken

HANGMAN'S TREE, best view of Ghost Town at Knott's Berry Farm, reserved especially for cattle rustlers, claim jumpers, etc.

Norris at Marineland to say that a big red lobster was needed as an actor in a seashore scene. Norris replied, "Impossible, western lobsters can't act."

The producer said he really wanted an eastern lobster. Norris informed the movie man that eastern lobsters can't act either and are green in color. The curator suggested that the best solution would be to build a mechanical lobster.

"Fine," the producer exclaimed, "we'll build a motor-driven green lobster and it will only cost $40,000. Man, you're a great scientist..."

"MUDDY CHAOS" is the only accurate way to describe the spectacle of two rhinoceroses, Barney and Sally, charging at each other and bashing their heads together at San Diego Zoo after a recent rain. Mud splattered over the huge beasts, nearby buildings and spectators. The zookeeper said "the rhinos are only playing," and an onlooker asked "what happens if they get mad?"

THE BIRTH of real Arctic reindeer in Southern California is rare as May snow, but the blessed event was recorded a few days ago at Santa's Village in the San Bernardino mountains. Two baby reindeer were delivered to a member of Santa's sleigh team and now are on display in the barn. Midwife to the delivery was Grady Carothers, a Texan who imported the reindeer from Northern Alaska.

Anoakia Plans to Add Third Grade

Anoakia Lower School, inaugurated in 1953 as the Anoakia Nursery School, located on the beautiful 20-acre Anita Baldwin estate, 701 W. Foothill Blvd., Arcadia, has announced the opening in September of a third grade.

The Lower School will then provide a continuing guidance program for boys and girls from 2½ to 8 years of age supervised by a staff trained and experienced in early childhood education.

THE PRE-SCHOOL is a guidance type unit whose scheduled program provides security and a happy adjustment to the regulated program of the primary grades.

Records of each child's progress in motor, mental, emotional and social development are kept. These are used during parent-school conferences. Counseling with parents is an important part of the program.

Anoakia is a charter member of the California Association of Independent Schools, and maintains high academic standards required by the member schools. Children are given standard tests of ability and achievement when application is made for admission. Enrollment is limited to between 8 and 15 per teacher and the environment carefully planned to promote maximum learning for each child.

Close communication is maintained between the school and parents by means of extensive quarterly reports and conferences.

FUNDAMENTALS, such as reading, based on phonetic principles, arithmetic, spelling, writing, English and social studies are stressed. Also included in the curriculum are broad experiences in all the creative arts, including music as well as a planned physical education program. All primary department teachers are certificated.

An active Brownie Troop under the leadership of Mrs. Sally Smalley and Mrs. Carol Berg is open to all girls who are seven years old or in the second grade.

The Lower School continues under the direction of Mrs. Beck Gallier who has maintained the high standard and experienced leadership of Anoakia.

A man may be rich in experience, and still not be able to raise the price of a square meal.

Marjorie Golden Receives Degree At Local College

MARJORIE LEAKE GOLDEN (Mrs. Jack Golden), 431 E. Grand View, received her bachelor of arts degree May 26 from Pasadena Nazarene College. She will teach girls' physical education next year at Clifton Intermediate School in Monrovia.

Heavy Rains Prevented Higher Water Cost

(This is the first of two articles on the background of our water problems, with particular emphasis on the Raymond Basin from which Sierra Madreans receive their water. The articles are by Max Bookman, district engineer, State Department of Water Resources.)

By Max Bookman
Had it not been for the recent heavy rains, many householders in Sierra Madre would have been paying higher rates soon for water purchased from neighboring Arcadia at more than one-half again the cost of the same water to the residents of that city.

All preparations for the water purchase had been made, down to the signing of an agreement between the two cities and the installation of the metered water connection.

But then came unusually heavy downpours which helped replenish the depleted underground reservoirs from which Sierra Madre residents obtain all their water.

THIS MAY be only a reprieve. Sierra Madre's impending water deficiency is duplicated in many other locations in Southern California—the culmination of an ever-increasing drain on natural water reserves, aggravated by a 14-year spell of subnormal rainfall.

In fact, Sierra Madre's special predicament might be said to have begun in past millenniums, because an ages old geologic fault (displacement of the earth's crust) separates the ground water under Sierra Madre from that under Arcadia. The fault in the bedrock extends its influence through the sand and gravel layers above it, hindering the passage of ground water through them.

Known as the Raymond Fault, nature's underground dam runs in a northeasterly direction from just north of Mission Street in Pasadena to just south of the intersection of Foothill Boulevard and Santa Anita Avenue in Arcadia, skirting the north side of Huntington Drive at San Gabriel Boulevard, and all but grazing the northwest curve of the Santa Anita racetrack.

It forms the southern boundary of what geologists call the Raymond Basin. This basin, a vast subterranean "pool" of water-bearing sediments, became the bone of contention in a legal battle over water rights 20 years ago.

BUT FOR 200 years—until water became scarce—nobody could have cared less. Up through the last three or four decades, water was virtually free to anyone who could dig a ditch or sink a well.

The Spanish padres 200 years ago diverted the flow of such streams as the Santa Ana, San Gabriel and Los Angeles Rivers. Later they dug wells in the ground until water came gushing up in spontaneous artesian flow from seemingly boundless subsurface reservoirs.

Earlier known use of Raymond Basin water was at the San Gabriel Mission in 1771. The Mission was established a short distance downstream from some springs which were actually the "overflow" across the top of the Raymond Fault, then visible as a slight ridge in the valley. The first major influx of water users did not occur for another century.

The settlers who came in the 1870s and 1880s spread water liberally upon their crops and irrigated the citrus orchards which made them prosperous and California famous. The County of Los Angeles came to be known as the richest agricultural county in the nation.

BECAUSE its orchards and vineyards seemed bountifully blessed with both sunshine and water, additional thousands of people each poured into Southern California's gardenland. Settlements which had started in the area overlying the Raymond Basin developed into the City of Sierra Madre, virtually all of the City of Pasadena, the northeast corner of South Pasadena, portions of San Marino and Arcadia, and a great deal of the unincorporated area known as Altadena and La Canada.

The people of Southern California resorted to pumping water in the 1870s. They needed additional water for the new cities flourishing in the foothills, and surface water supplies could no longer keep up with mounting demands as irrigated acreage expanded. A total of 141 wells was reported in the Raymond Basin area by the U.S. Geologic Survey in 1908.

In the early 1900s people all over the southern part of the state encountered a new disturbing development: to continue pumping water they had to sink their wells deeper year after year. Water was being taken from the ground faster than nature was putting it back in. The underground water table was falling, and as it went down, the cost of pumping the water went up.

It became evident that the supply was in danger of exhaustion unless some limit was placed on the amount being extracted.

"For we walk by faith, not by sight."—Read II Corin. 5: 1-10.

LIFE often becomes too perplexing for us. We wonder how we can last another day as the work piles upon us and pressure mounts. The pile of bills grows larger. Our worries multiply.

WE LONG to be unburdened of the whole business of living, to be at rest. This experience comes to all of us at times. It came to Christ's great apostle St. Paul and the people of Corinth. But St. Paul found words of comforting reassurance to speak to us! He reminds us that whether we live here on earth, or are in Heaven, the Good Shepherd is with us through God's Holy Spirit. No matter what befalls us in this life, we have God's promise that He will sustain us in all things, and receive us finally in His everlasting Heaven.

THIS IS THE FAITH by which we walk, and in which the Spirit sustains us! TODAY'S THOUGHT—You need not walk alone. Come to the Shepherd of the Hills, where you are a stranger only once.

Christmas was spent in Subic Bay, Philippine Islands, and after a period of operations and a visit to Manila, the destroyers traveled to Japan for rest and upkeep.

Following their participation in the February amphibious warfare exercises in the Philippines, the destroyers' crew visited Hong Kong and took part in the patrol of Formosa.

En route homeward, the division visited Midway Island and Pearl Harbor.

Take your problems to Church this week —

Millions Leave Them There!

As the Twig Is Bent

In our nation we need executives, statesmen, judges, teachers, true promoters and, yes, ministers.

What we want in the nation we must put into our schools and churches for the principles, purposes and plans of our whole people are being forged there. The church schools of higher learning are especially dedicated to this purpose.

Any child who is potentially a minister and shows an inclination and natural trend for that profession should have all possible encouragement both moral and financial.

Whether they be our own children or children of others we owe it to ourselves and to our nation to aid them. The church of their faith will help them, therefore, if for no other reason some church needs your support in this noble work.

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

Wright Watercolor Exhibit Is Honest, Forceful

By Frode N. Dann

Have lots of water with you! I can hear Jimmie Wright admonish his students. And in his exhibit, currently at the Sierra Madre Library Gallery, he shows that the liquid quality in water-color painting can be forcefully employed to convey creative impulses.

The dogma of the daintily tinted drawings of the 19th Century water color school was never accepted by this painter.

WRIGHT HAS dedicated himself to water color and has contributed immeasurably toward the elevation of the medium to a major position in American painting. He works with devotion and intensiveness, one even suspects ecstasy.

Architectural structures are among his favorite subjects and here we find him in his calmest mood. The buildings are too solid to fool with. Besides, someone did some creative work already on these things or he would not have been interested in giving them an interpretation. But, with complex market scenes and multifarious still life subjects the heart and mind are free to roam and the artist indulges in lusty color and design performances.

Deep down in the bosom of Jimmie lives a dare-devil, recalcitrant spirit that constantly pops up and keeps him from being a nice conventional painter. Thank goodness! For it is that same spirit that lifts up his work above the merely skillful and imbues it with the vivacious life so characteristic of his paintings.

We may have preferences, of course, among these papers, but, whether we like them or not, they all have the merit of being sincere, honest expressions—they are bits and hunks of the spirit, flesh and blood of James Cooper Wright, of no one else.

A FEW excellent drawings round out the show.

Wright has a large following as a teacher in the Southland region. More than 40 major awards from all over the United States have come his way.

In conclusion: It is good to see the works of a painter who has stood by his convictions in times when "band-wagons" are rolling by so briskly. Artistic quality was never derived from "newness" but from some inner compulsion to produce with creative integrity.

Library Gets New Books, Magazines

William McKenna To Speak Before Foothill GOP Club

William F. McKenna, partner in the Los Angeles and Washington, D.C. law firm of McKenna and Fitting, will address the Foothill Young Republican Club at its monthly meeting at 7 o'clock, Monday, June 2, in the Knights of Pythias Building, 2268 E. Villa, Pasadena.

McKenna's subject, "Good Government under the Eisenhower Administration," will be documented because of his experience as a frequent consultant to the Federal Government on housing problems.

During 1954-55 McKenna was the deputy administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency in the Federal government.

The address will be preceded by a pot-luck dinner and a short business meeting, covering the final details on the preparation for the June primary elections.

AND AT Forest Lawn Memorial Park, real accuracy provided a heavy problem. An oldtimer dropped by a while back with a treasure map showing that $500,000 in loot buried by the famous early California bandit Vasquez was stashed on what now is Forest Lawn property. Surveyors were hired, the map followed carefully, and the treasure spot located smack under the 11-story Mausoleum, which is heavy as the Great Pyramid of Egypt.

A DISTINGUISHED looking gentleman, prevented from entering the stables at Hollywood Park because he had no badge, protested to the guard.

"But I'm Mervyn LeRoy, the president of this track. I don't have time to get a badge." The conscientious guard replied:

"Those are your own orders, sir."

It really was the track president and he later decided to commend the guard for obeying orders so well.

And so Memorial Day is once more with us, and to many it will be just that. A day of reverence and memory. However, too many more will use the three-day weekend to crowd the highways and take brief vacations.

This is all well and good if all safety factors are observed and courtesy is practiced by all. I hate to think of the statisticians who are sitting with pencils poised ready to put down their hundreds of X's for the John Does that will be remembered next year at this time. These John Does that won't die for their country but for the sake of having gotten there a little bit faster.

And, remember, no man ever received a Medal of Honor for having annihilated bystanders with an automobile. This seems a rather serious note but it seems criminal to think that more lives are lost in our four-wheel monsters than ever fell under the sting of rifles. Just don't let it be you.

IF ANYONE wonders why the Howard K. Forstberg of 1535 Sierra Madre Villa have been so scarce of late I found the reason. They spend all of their time in the back watching their new pool take shape, step by step. Believe me, that requires a lot of supervising.

MR. AND MRS. Carl A. Mounter of 1250 Sierra Madre Villa took a little time out from their garden planting last week to entertain Mrs. Mounter's brother and family. They were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Meoli, and Michael and Marcia, from Phoenix, Ariz. They stayed with the Mounters for five days and there were several family gatherings in their honor.

MR. AND MRS. C. D. Parr of 3420 Fairpoint spent a few days this week vacationing in Carmel. You may remember seeing the Parr home in the Home Section of the Los Angeles Times a few weeks back. They are located at the sight of the old Sierra Madre Villa Inn. The two magnolia trees that grace their entrance have been estimated to be 100 years old. They have a truly unique and charming home.

MRS. WALTER OPP of 2915 Clarmeyra Lane pulled off a surprise birthday party on her husband's last Saturday evening. Thirty-six guests came to help celebrate and enjoy the buffet dinner, which Mrs. Opp had artfully stashed from her husband's sight.

THE RALPH PAQUETTES of 1309 Wynn Road entertained at a card party and late buffet last weekend. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fletcher and Dr. Carl Johnson.

MR. AND MRS. J. C. Rippee of 1575 Old House Road just returned with Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Davis, of Monterey, from a three-week automobile trip. They left from here and went up to Seattle to the Hart Highway which led them up to Anchorage, Alaska. They then visited Fairbanks and all the area to the end of the Alcan Highway. They returned via the National Parks in British Columbia. They visited Jasper, Lake Louise, Banff, Crater Lake and then came down to Medford, Ore., where they stayed a couple of days with relatives. Mrs. Rippee said that although they briefly had snow, rain, hail and sleet, the inconvenience was so brief they could truthfully say that they had ideal weather. After all, you do expect some cold weather in Alaska.

SOME OF our local neighbors had a wonderful time last Sunday listening and dancing to the music of the Fire House Five Plus Two, sponsored by the Sierra Guild of Children's Hospital. After the tea dance we all came back here for dinner, refueling and more dancing.

Members of Las Jardineras, home and garden club of Hastings Ranch, took part in a china judging event at their May meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Russell Stubbs, 3610 Shadow Grove.

Guests were invited for the china show and for refreshments, with members remaining afterwards for a business meeting and to work on their annual project of making small dish gardens for use in hospitals.

The Las Jardineras Spring party is scheduled June 7, a luau at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kip Bowen on Rim Road.

Mrs. Creim
New Nursery
School Head

Mrs. Conrad Creim was elected president of the Hastings Ranch Nursery School at the annual parents' meeting and barbecue dinner last week. She succeeds Mrs. Walter Pankey.

Other new officers and board members are Mrs. David English, school operations chairman; Mrs. Berry Senne, secretary; Julian Burke, treasurer; Mrs. Max Marco, ways and means chairman; and Mrs. Robert Jugan, co-chairman. Mrs. Paris Masek, mother-teacher chairman; Mrs. Robert Grube, parent education chairman; Mrs. Alan Stearns, publicity chairman; Sol Bucksbaum and Edward Donald, equipment directors; and Joe Cummins, community relations chairman.

The meeting was attended by 41 parents as well as Dr. Joseph Michaels, members of the school's advisory board, and members of the staff. Mrs. Lee Carmichael, director, Mrs. Thomas Andrew, Mrs. Albert Meyer, Mrs. Thomas Horne and Mrs. David Orswell.

Parents tried their hand at "creative" work with their children's paint and other art materials.

Ranchettes

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Eldson, 1135 Leonard, are the parents of a daughter, Megan Elizabeth, born April 23 at Huntington Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 pounds, 3 ounces. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Campbell of Altadena. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Brown of Monterey Park. The other Eldson children are Linda, 8, and Timmy, 5.

A daughter, Judy, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne S. Blackman, 1215 Daverio, April 29 at St. Luke Hospital. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Howell of Pasadena. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Blackman of Altadena. The new arrival has three brothers, Eddie, 11; Jerry, 9, and Tommy, 7.

Mrs. Lansill
New President
Of Hasty Hens

Mrs. William Lansill will be installed as the new president of Hasty Hens at their meeting Tuesday night at the Shadow Grove Road home of the Charles Daves.

Others to be installed are Mrs. E. S. Gregory, vice president; Mrs. Richard Gault, secretary; and Mrs. Edward Mackenzie, treasurer.

The club also will make plans for its annual series of summer parties.

The supporters included Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph Phillipson, Charles Goldsworthy, George Clark, Aikman Armstrong, John Chapman and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Mueller.

Second in Group II were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cummins, with 29,800. Also playing in Group II were Mr. and Mrs. John Senour, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lubisch, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Robison, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Slaven, Mr. and Mrs. Berry Senne and Mr. and Mrs. William Lansill.

Second in Group III were Mr. and Mrs. William Caldecott with 29,780 points. Others playing in Group III were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Velasquez, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hogoboom, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Narowich, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Donald, Mr. and Mrs. John Hedrick, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bobick and Mr. and Mrs. Don Pope.

Taking second place in Group IV were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burt, with 25,650 points. Other players were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wright, Mr. and Mrs. John Caldecott, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stubbs, Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Boland, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKelvey, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pooler and Mr. and Mrs. John Calmer.

Chairman of the annual tournament which is as much a get-acquainted-with-your-neighbor plan as it is a benefit for the nursery school, is Mrs. Harris Robison.

The tournament began in October, with 10 couples in each of the four groups. Roughly three weeks were allowed for each game, each couple playing each of the other nine couples in its group.

The four high scorers will play each other to determine the grand champions. June 8 is set as the deadline for playoffs. Prizes will be awarded to the high-scoring couples, and an additional prize to the champions.

Mrs. Robison said that, although plans for next year's tournament have not been formulated, she will take the names of couples who would like to register now. Her telephone number is ELgin 5-2717.

The assembly was held first and second periods and elections were held in the third period.

Sandy Vince Hurls
No Hitter for Dodgers

The second week of play produced the first no-run, no-hit, no-walk game of the season. This masterpiece was hurled by Gene (Sandy) Vance of the Dodgers against the Indians.

The Yankees, just like league, continued their winning ways, defeating the Braves easily but barely nosing out the Tigers, 3 to 1, as Freddie Riecke of the Yankees bested Bill Hoffine of the Tigers in a tight mound duel.

THE REDS were the surprise of the week as they moved into second place by virtue of wins over the Dodgers and Braves. The Reds have not been defeated, although they have two tie games that must be completed at a later date.

The Dodgers, by splitting their two games, defeating the Tigers on Vance's no-hitter but losing to the Reds, now are in second place with a record of two wins and two defeats.

Next in the standings are the Braves with a one-win and three-loss record as they lost to the Yankees and Reds the past week. The Indians had a 500 percentage record for the week, defeating the Tigers in a close contest but falling victim to the no-hitter on Friday. Again the Tigers failed to hit the win column although they played two fine games against the sheriff outfit. There were two best groups: Dick Randall, Pete Barnett, Chuck Hodges, Hardy Heyes were hoboes, and Judy Alexander, Marsha Raymond and Jerilyn Macintyre were the first rose queen and her court. Honorable mention was given to Brooks Goodall and Mary Ashenbrenner for not believing in reincarnation and carrying a coffin.

JUNE 2 is the day to tell your parents that you will be staying after school to see the Faculty vs. Seniors baseball game. This game is a money-raising project sponsored jointly by Student Council and Pep Council to start a fund for something big for the auditorium. The price is 5 cents. See you there.

Joe Littlefield
Speaks to Garden Club

Joe Littlefield, prominent garden authority, was guest speaker of the Hastings Ranch Garden Club at its 12:30 dessert meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Lewis Ross, 3780 Newhaven.

Plans also were made for the club's annual luncheon and swimming party to be held in June.

Club members Mrs. David Guzaiz and Mrs. Evan Whitlock served as hostesses this month during the District 12 garden show at the County Arboretum in Arcadia.

AT THE conclusion of the second week of play in the Minor League the Royals and the Cubs are tied for first place with a record of three wins, no losses and one tie apiece.

Close behind with three wins and one loss come the Angels. It is the consensus of opinion that the Minor League teams are more evenly matched than at any time since the inception of the league.

The standings at the conclusion of two weeks of play:

Major		W. L.
Yankees	4	0
Reds	3	1
Dodgers	2	2
Indians	1	2
Braves	1	3
Tigers	0	3
Minor		W. L.

Nursery School Plans First July Session

Hastings Ranch Nursery School will have a summer session this year for the first time. The session will run from July 7 through August 15, classes to be Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

There will be room for 26 children, 14 in the older pre-kindergarten group, and 12 in the younger. A professional teacher and assistant will be employed for each group. Although the school normally is a co-operative, with mothers helping in the classes, there will be no mother participation during the summer session. Information is available at the school during the morning at ELgin 5-1295.

Father Crean Celebrates Silver Jubilee

Father Timothy J. Crean will celebrate a Solemn Mass of Thanksgiving at 9 a.m. mass on June 1 at Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary Church, to mark the silver jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood.

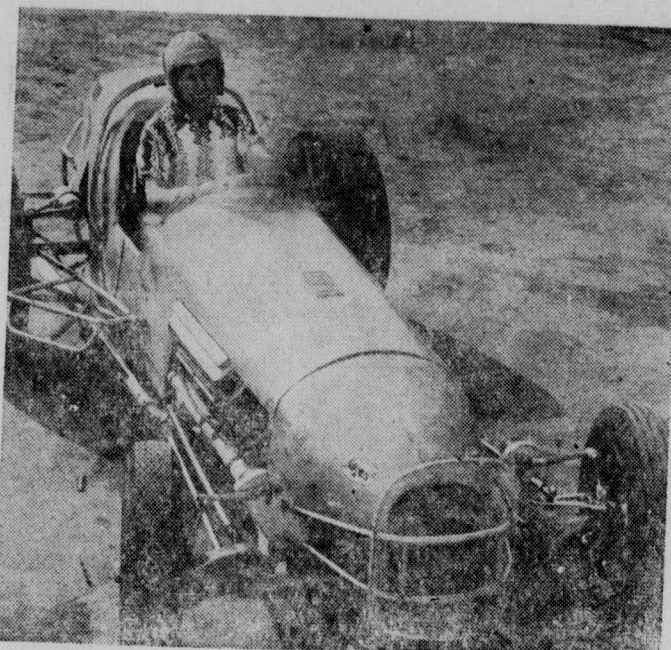

Father Crean was born and educated in Ireland, and ordained at All Hallows Seminary, Dublin, Ireland, on June 25, 1933.

He arrived in this country on Oct. 12, 1933, and was assigned to Our Lady of Loretto Parish, Los Angeles, as assistant pastor.

He also served at Immaculate Heart of Mary, Hollywood; Holy Family, Glendale, and St. Andrews, Pasadena, under Bishop McGucken.

In the latter part of 1950 he was appointed pastor of the newly founded parish of Assumption, and has served in that capacity since.

A reception in his honor will be held on Sunday, June 1, from 2 to 5 p.m. Preparations for this affair are being planned by members of the parish, with the children of the school participating in a short program.

HOWARD GARDNER takes off in a practice spin over the tricky 2 1/2-mile Riverside International Raceway in his big car speedster in preparation for the three 500-mile races Memorial Day, May 30; Saturday, May 31, and Sunday, June 1. Gardner is a nephew of the late Chet Gardner, a famous driver of yesteryear, and one of the topnotch lead-foots entered in the major race car event, which is scheduled for Friday, Memorial Day. The Saturday classic is for mighty midgets and the Sunday 500-miler is for late model European and American cars, the first such international type event.

At least the people who aren't thankful for what they receive should be thankful for what they escape.

The only easy money most men get their hands on is what they borrow back from their wives.

Garden Notes . . .

Ivory Fashion, Starfire Named All-America Roses

Two fine rose varieties, Ivory Fashion and Starfire, have been named the 1958 All-America roses. These lovely introductions join a select circle of 48 prime roses chosen since 1940 as the best all-around roses in the nation.

The California Association of Nurserymen is always proud to recommend these tested roses to home gardeners throughout the state.

Starfire is the most recent introduction in the grandiflora class, a class which has rapidly increased in popularity since its development only a few years ago. Starfire, like all grandifloras, bears extremely large, high-centered blooms in great abundance. Its eye-catching color, current-red, makes it a sure center of attraction wherever it is planted.

IVORY FASHION is a new white floribunda with unusually large blooms, 4 to 5 inches across. Floribundas are low growing plants bearing clusters of blooms profusely throughout a very blooming period.

Being completely new, the 1958 All-America Rose selections will not be available at all nurseries; however, the nurseries that do have them will stock the All-Americas in containers. By November or December of this year the new selections will be available in quantity in bare root form at all nurseries, so if you are not fortunate in locating them now, save a spot in your garden for bare root planting this winter.

The three 1958 All-America selections are available in increased quantity this summer and will be widely available in bare root this winter. The three prized varieties are White Knight, Fusilier and Gold Cup.

THE SOLE 1958 winner in the hybrid tea class was White Knight. Possessor of immaculately white blossoms, White Knight is an upright plant of medium height. It has long pointed buds and lovely large double blooms.

Fusilier and Gold Cup are members of the spectacular floribunda family. The erect habit of Fusilier gives it its martial name and its vivid scarlet-orange blooms make

Second Birthday For Cliff Maass

Clifford Maass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Maass, 1185 Tropical, celebrated his second birthday anniversary at an afternoon party.

In attendance were Mary Jane Pruitt, Joan and Sue Donald, Billy Follmer, Jimmy Shiner, Donnie Francis, Kathy Weldon and Brian and Kevan Hill.

The guest of honor's sister, Char, assisted at the party.

it a stand-out garden attraction. Gold Cup has lovely golden yellow, medium-sized blossoms and a wide spreading habit.

How many people do you know in SHAREVILLE?

You won't find Shareville on any map of the United States, yet you may know many of its citizens. They may be such people as your banker, your milkman or your children's teacher. The citizens of Shareville are owners of the California Water & Telephone Company. If all the shareholders of California Water & Telephone Company moved into your town over night, you would have to make room for 13,000 new families, for your locally managed company has about that many shareholders.

Like you, these owners of California Water & Telephone Company are seriously concerned with keeping the cost of their telephone service at fair rates. As owners, they understandably want their company to operate with a profit that will permit a fair return on their investment, because only a fair return will attract the necessary expansion capital.

Hastings School Menu

MONDAY—Macaroni and cheese, stuffed eggs, string beans, rosy apple sauce, slice of bread and butter, milk.

TUESDAY—Hamburgers with cheese, carrots, grapefruit and pineapple compote, milk.

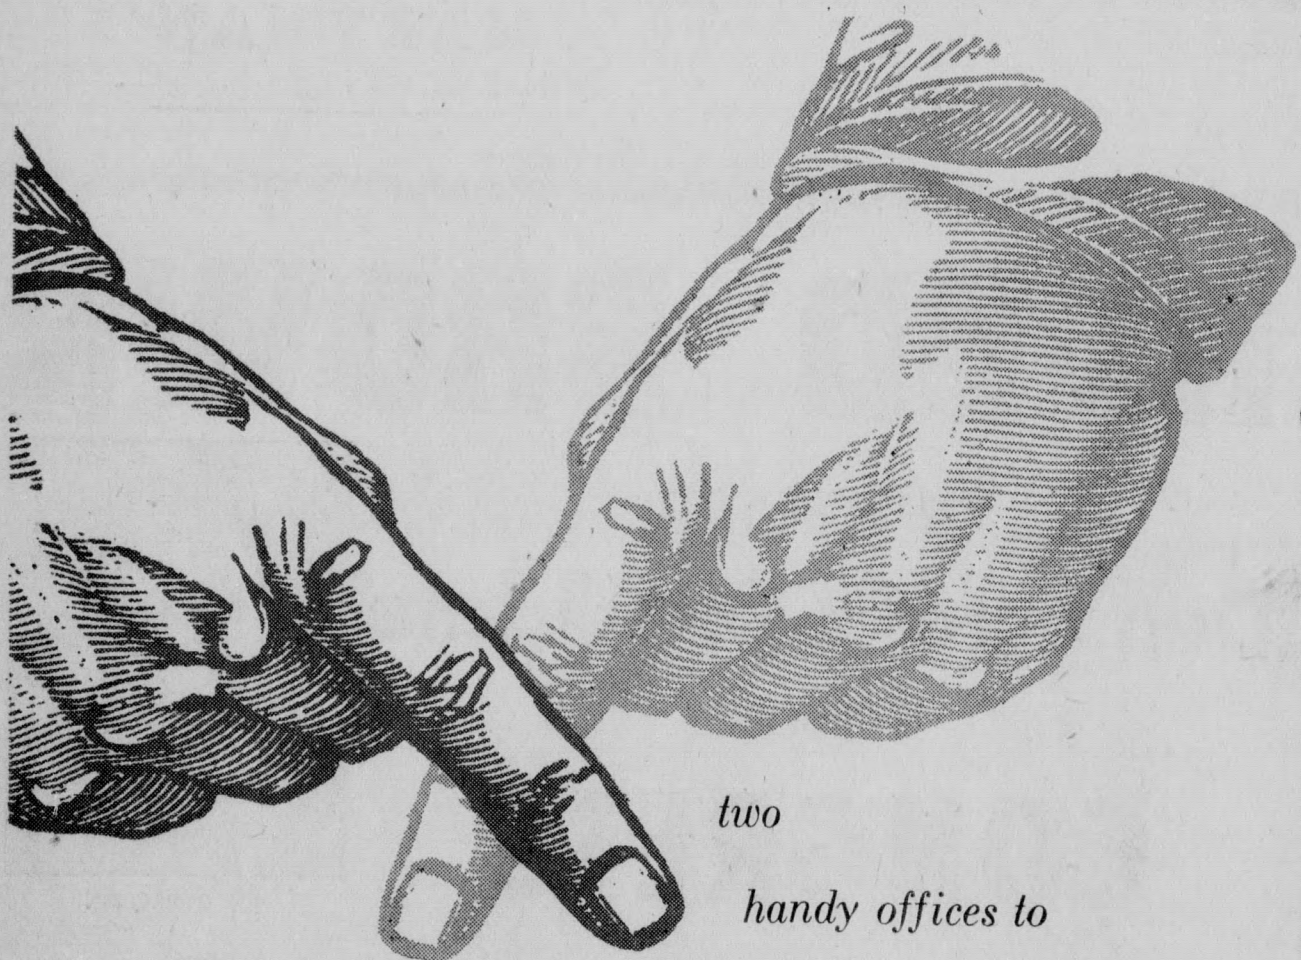

WEDNESDAY—Cheese cutlets, spinach, frozen orange bar, slice of bread and butter, milk.

THURSDAY—Turkey and mashed potatoes, peas, spice cake, slice of bread and butter, milk.

FRIDAY—Oven grilled fish, corn, pickled beets, orange slices, whole wheat hot rolls and butter, milk.

Various a la carte items available at extra cost. No a la carte items sold except as an addition to tray lunch or to children bringing lunch from home who wish to buy supplemental dishes or to adults. Ice cream is an a la carte item.

Valley Mrs. America Winner Gives Two Favorites

By Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

Mrs. Henry E. (Dorothy) Johnson of 171 W. Orange Grove has just been through an exciting experience. She was finalist for San Gabriel Valley in the Mrs. America Contest. Although she didn't win the state title, she feels that it was an adventure that could not be duplicated.

In addition to the gas dryer she won, she and her husband were guests at the Ambassador Hotel for three days with such deluxe service that it made it seem like a different world. The contestants were judged on their merits as homemakers which included cooking, sewing, shopping, as well as being judged on their poise in addressing large groups.

One point it did prove to Mrs. Johnson is that every wife who cares for her home properly and with her heart has a real job, rewarded by the love of her family and a satisfaction of providing a warm hearth that will endure for years to come.

She gave me two recipes that appeal to her family and are simple to prepare:

BEEF DELIGHT

2 lb. stew meat
1/2 cup green onions
Salt to taste
1/3 cup flour (for gravy)
1/4 cup oil
2 Steero bouillon cubes
Dash of soy sauce or Worcestershire
1 cup mushrooms
1/2 cup catsup
Fresh ground pepper
1/4 cup butter
1/2 cup vermouth

Heat oil in heavy skillet. Add meat and cook until nicely brown on all sides. Remove meat and set aside. Add butter and mushrooms and saute till tender. Remove both from pan and add to meat. Crush Steero in drippings. Add flour, salt and pepper. Add soy sauce or Worcestershire to drippings and cook till thick. Add catsup, vermouth and water, stirring well, and pour over meat which has been placed in a casserole dish. Bake in a 250° F. oven for two hours. (Gravy should be thin as it thickens in oven baking.)

MEAT BALLS AND SAUCE

2 lb. ground meat
1 tsp. salt
2 eggs
2 cups fat
1 clove garlic
1/2 loaf sour dough bread
Oregano to taste

Soak bread in water, then remove crust and squeeze bread until damp. To the bread add the meat, garlic that has been pressed or grated, oregano and eggs. Mix thoroughly with hands and form into balls 2 inches in diameter. Brown in hot fat or deep fry quickly till brown on all sides. Drain well on paper towels and cool.

Meanwhile, bring to boil 2 cans processed tomatoes, 1 clove garlic, 2 or 3 lbs. salad oil or olive oil, 1/2 onion sliced thin, 1 tsp. oregano, salt and pepper. Turn flame low and add meat balls. Simmer till mixture thickens. 1 1/2 cups rice may be added toward the end for a different type of dish, or sauce may be served over spaghetti.

THE JOHNSONS have bought a large old home on Orange Grove and are in the process of completely remodeling. They have even put a new brick facing on the front, which completely changes the character of their entrance.

You might say they have a joint hobby at this time of painting and renovating. As a side diversion, Mrs. Johnson enjoys knitting and sewing.

They are enthusiastic parents, devoting a great deal of time to their children's activities. Their three children range in age from Steven, who is 11, Christy, 7, and their new baby, Trudi, who is just 4 months old. Mrs. Johnson has just put in two years as a den mother for Steven's group, and next fall she intends to be a Brownie leader for her daughter, Christy.

Mr. Johnson is affiliated with the Eagle Rock Lumber Co. in Eagle Rock.

Your Health . . .

Certificate of Immunization Vital for Foreign Travel

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D., L.A. County Health Officer

Anyone who spends a vacation outside the continental limits of the United States must have a Certificate of Immunization in order to supply foreign and native health officials with evidence that protection against certain contagious diseases has been obtained. For foreign travel, this certificate is as necessary as the passport.

The U.S. Public Health Service is the authority that imposes this regulation, and the certificate form is usually provided when the individual receives his passport. If it isn't, it may be obtained from the local office of this federal agency.

The immunizations required are given to protect the health of the individual, and also to prevent the passage of communicable diseases from one country to another.

SMALLPOX, cholera and yellow fever are the three vaccinations most generally required on the certificate, although there is space for information on typhoid fever inoculations and any others that are considered advisable. The immunization recommended depends on where the person plans to go.

If vacation travel is confined to Mexico or to Europe, only a smallpox vaccination is demanded from everyone, whether obtained from vaccination within the past three years or from a previous attack of the disease. If this evidence is not available, the individual may find himself detained at port of entry for a period of observation.

TO HELP the traveler avoid confusion and delay, it is perhaps worth emphasizing that it is the location of the doctor's office that determines where the certificate shall be sent for the stamp of official approval and not the individual's place of residence.

Upon request, certain travel immunizations are given by the medical staff of the Los Angeles County Health Department to individuals who reside within the Department's health jurisdiction.

David Depew, 16, of 990 E. Atchison St., Pasadena, a sophomore honor student at La Salle High School, garnered top honors and a $30 cash award in a competitive short story contest held annually among the nine California high schools conducted by the Order of the Christian Brothers.

The announcement was made by Brother U. Alfred, provincial of the Christian Brothers of California.

The contest awards six cash prize to winners in two divisions. Dave won first place in the lower division (fresh-sophomore) section. After selections were made in the various schools, 30 stories were entered for final competition.

First place in the upper division went to Ralph Patton of Mont La Salle High School, Napa, Calif.
